The day before they left he had a check cashed for $50.00 with the signature of Joseph P. Moomaw to it. SHIFFLETT KILLS ONE MAN AND DANGEROUSLY WOUNDS ANOTHER.

J. T. Shifflett, alias John Eaton, was landed in the Harrisonburg jail Sunday morning, charged with the murder of Marvin Shifflett and dangerous wounding of Ashby Lawson. Shifflett admits doing the shooting, which occurred late Saturday evening near Roadside, a small place in the eastern part of Rockingham county, but he claims that he acted in self-defense. Immediately after the shooting Shifflett gave himself up to the deputy sheriff and said that he had been attacked by the two men whom he shot and another, whom he did not know. It is said that Lawson was most likely dead. All parties live in the same neighborhood, and the shooting is said to be the result of an old feud. Eaton is a married man.

The evidence before the coroner's jury was very strong against the prisoner.

THE WALDMERE CAMP.

Woodstock Citizens Band, Aug. 21, 1907.

In response to your request, I am writing this to tell you of our first Monday morning, Aug. 19th and at 12 M. had seven tents pitched and occupied. We are camping beside the Shenandoah river at the junction of Jumping Run Creek and the river and on the Valley Turnpike, near a large spring. Monday afternoon was occupied in getting our kitchen and mess tents in proper shape and at six o'clock everyone rushed to the mess tent where a feast of appetizing viands were set before us prepared by John Jackson, chief, who was made famous in the civil war by his fine cooking. Arthur McFee is his assistant here. Monday evening the two clarinet soloists furnished the amusement for the crowd by falling from a boat into the river after being in full dress for the evening concert.

Fortunately for the two young men, one happened to be a tailor and soon both were ready to appear in public.

A concert was given on the camp grounds Monday evening to a large appreciative audience. Everyone was astir early Tuesday morning and after an hour's practice the morning was taken up in fishing, rowing and swimming. We have three boats here which affords plenty of exercise and amusement for the boys. Tuesday afternoon a band stand was built and another concert given after which many visitors were shown around the camp.

The attendance at the evening concert was much larger than the evening before.

Wednesday morning we were drilled in marching after which a concert was given to a party of automobilists were so much pleased with the music that they wanted to take our leader with them, but he dropped off at Mt. Jackson as he could not leave his wandering boys. A concert will be given at Hawkinstown tonight and at Mt. Jackson on Thursday evening.

Members of the band present are—F. M. Fravel, leader, Fred Spiker, solo cornet; Chas. Skyles, 1st B. Cornet; J. R. Miller, C. W. Shaffer, solo clarinets; H. J. Fravel, Baritone; W. H. Sheetz, B. Bass; R. L. Bargett, John Sheetz, Tubar; Asa Sheetz, Piccolo; Julius Wise, Slide Trombone; Emmet Irwin, David Yates, Tenors; S. Sutherland, H. Mattox, Thos. Fravel, Altos; L. Brinker, Chas. Russell, Drummers.

Arthur McFee's barber shop has been doing a rushing business and he says he would like to camp all the time.

The hospitality of Old Virginia has never been shown so liberally as has been shown to us by our surrounding neighbors who daily bring all kinds of vegetables to our camp.

Mr. B. E. Sager has been visiting the camp for several days. A MEMBER.

Kicked to Death in Field. Peter Wine, a well-known farmer, living a few miles south of Bridgeport, was kicked to death by a horse last Saturday evening.

Mr. Wine had just left the field, where he and his son had been plowing. He was riding one horse and leading another. No one saw the mishap, but it is thought that death was due to his being kicked by the animal he was leading. He was found in the road by his son, but died within three minutes. Examination showed the prints of a horse's feet just over his heart.

Mr. Wine is survived by a widow and 11 children.
